DETAILED ACTION

Specification

The abstract of the disclosure is objected to because it exceeds the 150 word limit. Correction is required. See MPEP § 608.01(b).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

1. Claims 1-21 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Hitchins et al.

Claims 1, 2, 5, 6, 10, 13, 14, 15, 17, 19 and 21: Hitchins et al disclose in Figures 1B and 11 an injector (20) comprising a housing (21) and a drive member (22) comprising a retaining member (412) and outwardly extending flange members (414 and 416); a syringe (10) comprising a body (50) and a plunger (15) comprising a wall/base member (444) having an inner surface defining a retaining shoulder (space in which the letter "F" is located) and inwardly projecting flanges/connection members (440) which are fixedly disposed on the inner surface of the wall; wherein at least one retaining member (412) on the drive member is adapted to engage with the retaining shoulder to enable the drive member to retract the plunger (Figure 2B); and wherein the inwardly projecting flanges (440) are adapted to engage the engaging flange members on the drive member (414 and 416) when the syringe is rotated about its longitudinal axis operable to cause the retaining member to disengage the retaining shoulder (column 14, lines 10-15).

Art Unit: 3767

Claims 3, 4, 8, 9, 12, 16 and 18: Hitchins et al disclose in Figure 11 the plurality of flanges (440) spaced evenly, radially, and longitudinally along the wall

Claims 7 and 18: Hitchins et al disclose in Figures 1B and 11 the body (50) and plunger wall (444) being substantially cylindrical.

Claim 11: Hitchins et al disclose in Figure 11 the interior surface of the wall (444) defining a retaining shoulder formed on an axial plane and the plurality of inwardly projecting flanges (440) radially spaced along the interior surface of the wall and extending in a longitudinal direction proximal to the retaining shoulder.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments filed 8/4/2006 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. Applicant argues that Hutchins does not disclose a "wall" and states that instead, Hutchins discloses a "stem." Examiner points out that although the term "stem" Hutchins uses to describe his structure is different than the Applicant's term "wall," Hutchins' features read on the limitations of Applicant's claimed "wall" structures, and therefor the rejection is maintained.

Conclusion

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

Art Unit: 3767
